

Mission Ready Package (MRP) - Community Support - Blue Sky Day

The Rocky Mountain Medical Reserve Corps (MRC) supports communities during both emergencies and day-to-day activities. The Community Support - Blue Sky Day MRP focuses on building resilience and providing essential medical standby services for non-emergency events.

Key Features of the Community Support MRP:

1. Emergency Preparedness Training:

- Engaging workshops to teach community members how to prepare for emergencies.
- Hands-on demonstrations of basic first aid, CPR, and the use of emergency kits.
- Distribution of preparedness resources, including checklists and guides tailored to local hazards.

2. Medical Standby Services:

- First aid and triage support during events such as:
 - Health fairs
 - Marathons and sports events
 - County fairs and festivals
 - Conferences and large gatherings
- Collaboration with event organizers to assess and address potential medical risks.

3. Volunteer Expertise:

- A diverse team of licensed medical professionals, public health experts, and trained non-medical volunteers.
- Rapid mobilization capabilities for events of various sizes and scopes.

4. Deployment Logistics:

- Fully stocked first aid kits, AEDs, and portable medical supplies.
- Clear communication and coordination with event security and local EMS for seamless integration.

Why This MRP Matters:

The Blue Sky Day MRP builds stronger, safer communities by:

- Enhancing public knowledge and readiness for emergencies.
- Providing reliable on-site medical support to prevent and address health incidents.
- Strengthening partnerships with local organizations and stakeholders.
